Featuring Joseph G. (Chip) Galagaza. His presentation covers hot topics in labor laws and labor challenges, including issues related to contract employees. Also touches on interesting transgender issues being raised very recently.

Chip is the resident partner in the Houston office of Jackson Lewis and is Board Certified in Labor and Employment Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization.

Galagaza has represented employers in a wide variety of labor and employment law matters before both administrative agencies and in state and federal courts. This experience has covered discrimination claims of every variety under both federal and Texas state law, wrongful discharge cases, a broad range of employment law torts, ERISA litigation, workers' compensation retaliation cases, federal wage and hour claims and matters arising under OSHA. He has experience in union elections, unfair labor practice charges, collective bargaining, and arbitration.

In addition, Galagaza has long counseled and advised clients in their "preventative maintenance" efforts, has conducted supervisory training seminars, and has conducted employee handbook and personnel policy reviews for them.

He has participated in 14 employment law trials to verdict, seven to juries and seven to the bench, and he has represented employers in several cases before both state and federal appellate courts.
